

Pair of St Clement faience rooster covered soup tureens

Sold

Description

A pair of St Clement faience rooster covered soup tureens, a few very small nicks but overall in excellent condition, circa 1950.

St. Clement faience is known for its colourful, hand-painted designs and high-quality craftsmanship. Produced in the St. Clement factory, established in 1758, this faience features intricate patterns and vivid glazes. It remains highly regarded for its aesthetic appeal and historical significance in decorative ceramics.
