

Elegant early 20th century boxwood and brass folding yardstick

£35

Description

Elegant early 20th century boxwood and brass folding yardstick by renowned toolmaker, J Rabone & Sons, circa 1900.

J Rabone & Sons, established in 1784, was a British company renowned for its precision instruments and measuring tools. Specialising in high-quality tapes, rulers, and scales, the company became a trusted name in engineering and craftsmanship. Their products were valued for durability and accuracy, reflecting a long legacy of excellence.