

Large 19th century vellum bucket

£125

REF: 5573

Height: 40 cm (15.7")

Diameter: 42 cm (16.5")

Description

Large 19th century handmade vellum bucket circa 1860. Perfect for logs.

Vellum buckets, crafted from high-quality parchment or calfskin, is a historical container used for storing liquids or materials. Its name comes from "vellum," a fine writing material. Typically used in historical or decorative contexts, the bucket combines functional utility with the durability and elegance of vellum craftsmanship.