Description

An elegant 18ct white gold diamond ring, beautifully designed to maximise sparkle and presence. The ring is centred with a brilliant-cut diamond, framed by additional diamond setting and diamond-set shoulders, creating a luminous and refined composition with an approximate total diamond weight of 0.60 carats.

The clean, cool tone of the white gold provides a classic setting for the diamonds, enhancing their natural brilliance and giving the ring a crisp, contemporary finish. The central stone forms the focal point of the design, while the surrounding diamonds add depth, light, and a pleasing sense of scale. Diamond-set shoulders continue the detail along the band, ensuring that the ring catches the light from every angle.

Balanced between timeless elegance and everyday wearability, this is a versatile diamond ring suited to a range of occasions. It would make a sophisticated dress ring, a meaningful anniversary gift, or a distinctive engagement ring for someone drawn to classic diamond jewellery with added sparkle and detail.
