Description

A long orange stick coral necklace with silver ball clasp.

Stick coral is a type of coral jewelry featuring slender, elongated coral branches that create a natural, textured aesthetic. Typically found in shades of red, orange, or pink, stick coral is prized for its organic beauty and vibrant hues. Often used in necklaces, bracelets, or earrings, these unique pieces add an earthy and bold charm to any outfit. Stick coral highlights the wonders of the ocean while showcasing traditional craftsmanship in a distinctive and stylish way.
