

White gold diamond cluster ear studs

£1,950

Description

A pair of 18ct white gold diamond cluster ear studs set with brilliant cut diamonds, circa 1950.

The brilliant cut is a gemstone cutting style designed to maximise light reflection, enhancing the stone's sparkle and brilliance. Most commonly associated with diamonds, it features a round shape with 57 or 58 facets precisely arranged to optimise brightness and fire. Developed in the 17th century and perfected over time, the brilliant cut remains the most popular choice for engagement rings and fine jewellery, celebrated for its ability to showcase a gemstone's inherent beauty and luminosity.
