

Pair of Arts & Crafts fire dogs

£75

REF: 5764

Description

A pair of Arts & Crafts hand forged iron fire dogs, circa 1905.

Arts and Crafts, an early 20th-century movement, emphasised traditional craftsmanship and quality materials over mass production. Characterised by simple, functional designs and natural materials, it sought to revive artisanal techniques and highlight handmade beauty. This movement influenced architecture, furniture, and decorative arts, celebrating craftsmanship and rejecting industrial excess.
